Spiritual Notes:

The words of the prophet Jeremiah are not words we would expect to hear from a prophet of God. "You duped me, Lord, and I let myself be duped", he complains. "His call as a prophet has led to derision and reproach all day" as he announces God's word to the people. Jeremiah learns that our ways are not God's ways and that sometimes the work of a prophet meets resistance and involves suffering – and idea reflected in today's Gospel as well. But still he perseveres because of his faith in God. Paul encourages the Romans to make a sacrifice required as disciples. Do not conform yourselves to this age, he writes; we are to strive to discern what is the will of God. Sometimes we face difficulties in doing this. But Paul encourages perseverance, for we know that God will reward our faithfulness. If God's only Son suffered for his faith, then we too may be called to suffer. But as God glorified Christ, we too will be given a share in that glory. Messianic expectations in Jesus' day varied. Some expected a royal figure, others a military leader, and still others a religious Messiah. One thing is certain – people's expectation of a Messiah did not include a figure who would suffer and die. This helps us understand Peter's response to Jesus' prediction of his Passion for the first time in Matthew. Peter rejects the idea that Jesus must suffer and die. "God forbid, Lord!" he protests. And now Jesus, who in the last episode had given the disciple the name Peter, addresses him as Satan, because he is not thinking as God does, but as human beings do. For in order to follow Christ, we must carry our own crosses.

For reflection: Has my faith brought suffering? How does Christ add to my understanding of God?

Why am I here? Where am I going? What should I be doing, once I figure all this out? We are all searching for more, and St. Joseph is providing a way for all to continue that search, regardless of where we are on our path. How? With Alpha!

Alpha is a program for all people of all backgrounds and viewpoints, and provides an opportunity to explore the purpose of life and the existence of God, while learning more about Jesus. It is designed to enhance your personal relationship with Jesus, and provide you with the tools to bring Jesus to others.

The course starts on September 11th and runs for 10 weeks. Small groups meet during the weekly sessions in a relaxed setting for a meal, to view a video, then gather in informal small groups for a laid back, discussion about the video's content.

Notas Espirituales:

Las palabras del profeta Jeremías no son palabras que esperaríamos escuchar de un profeta de Dios. "Me has seducido, Señor, y me dejé seducir", se queja. Su llamado como profeta ha llevado a "la burla y afrenta todo el día", como lo anuncia la palabra de Dios al pueblo. Jeremías se entera de que nuestros caminos no son los caminos de Dios y que a veces el trabajo de un profeta encuentra resistencia e implica sufrimiento - una idea reflejada en el Evangelio de hoy también. Pero aún así perseveró debido a su fe en Dios.

Pablo anima a los romanos para que el sacrificio exigido como discípulos. "No os conforméis a este siglo", escribe; estamos luchando para "discernir cuál es la voluntad de Dios". A veces nos enfrentamos a las dificultades para hacer esto. Pero Pablo anima a la perseverancia, porque sabemos que Dios recompensará nuestra fidelidad. Si el único Hijo de Dios sufrió por su fe, entonces nosotros también podemos ser llamados a sufrir. Pero como Dios glorificó a Cristo, así también nosotros nos darán una participación en esa gloria.

Expectativas mesiánicas de la época de Jesús variaron. Algunos esperaban una figura real, otros un líder militar, e incluso otros un mesías religioso. Una de las cosas es cierta - las expectativas de un Mesías de la gente no incluían una figura que sufriría y moriría. Esto nos ayuda a entender la respuesta de Pedro a la predicción de Jesús de su Pasión por primera vez en Mateo. Pedro rechaza la idea que Jesús debía sufrir y morir. "Dios no lo quiera, Señor!", Él protesta. Y ahora Jesús, que en el último episodio acababa de dar al discípulo el nombre de Pedro (roca), se dirige a él como "Satanás" porque él no está pensando "como lo hace Dios, sino como los hombres". Para el fin de seguir a Cristo, tenemos que llevar nuestra propia cruz.

Para la reflexión: ¿Mi fe ha traído sufrimiento? ¿Cómo respondí a ella? ¿De qué manera el sufrimiento de Cristo añade a mi comprensión de Dios?
